The Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP) is teaming up with local research institutions to host a Research Community Forum (RCF) in San Diego, California.

Institutional review board (IRB) members, IRB administrators, clinical investigators, research scientists & support staff, sponsors, contract research organizations, government regulators and members of the research community are encouraged to attend.

Workshop | February 27th

The workshop is an opportunity for the research community to engage directly with OHRP staff to explore and understand how to interpret and apply the HHS regulations and policies on human research protections. This will be a great chance to learn about the revised Common Rule.

Conference | February 28th

The Conference will foster thought-provoking topics and stimulating discussion and will include break-out sessions covering a broad range of research topics including central/single IRBs and related issues, innovative care, quality improvement, technology, the learning healthcare environment and more!

---

General Information

REGISTRATION & ATTENDANCE

- 2/27 | Day 1: Workshop: $120
- 2/28 | Day 2: Conference: $195
- 2/27 & 2/28 Attendance (Both Days): $300 (discounted rate)

*Attendance both days is encouraged, but not required

VENUE & ACCOMMODATIONS

Hyatt Regency Mission Bay
1441 Quivira Rd.
San Diego, California 92109

http://tinyurl.com/2018RCF-hotel

$195/night¹

¹ Negotiated Rate available 2 nights pre- and post-RCF

---

This dynamic two-day event is being co-hosted by OHRP and UC San Diego with planning support from Scripps Health, Sharp HealthCare, San Diego State University, Stanford University and Quorum Review IRB.